

What's Better than
One New LC Innovation?

Introducing FIVE NEW ADDITIONS!

Kinetex
2.6 µm Polar C18

Dual polar and non-polar retention for HPLC and UHPLC combined with productivity and performance gains from Core-Shell Technology. Polar modified surface also provides 100% aqueous stability.

Kinetex
5 µm F5

Highly reproducible pentafluorophenyl propyl phase (PFP) that offers a unique combination of polar, hydrophobic, aromatic, and shape selectivity. New 5 µm particle size is available for analytical and preparative LC and SFC separations.

Luna Omega
3 µm Polar C18

100% aqueous stability and enhanced selectivity/retention for polar analytes without diminishing useful non-polar retention. The C18 ligand provides general hydrophobic interactions while a polar modified particle surface provides enhanced polar compound retention.

Luna Omega
3 µm PS C18

Unique, 100% aqueous stable mixed-mode phase that provides both polar and non-polar retention. The surface contains a positive charged ligand which aids in the retention of acidic compounds through ionic interactions, also improves basic compound peak shape through ionic repulsion.

1 mm ID
Microbore Columns
